President Asks Unity in U.S. War On Communism

Hits 'Demagogues',
Thirsty for Power
And Public Notice

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower said Monday night Americans are completely united in their opposition to Communism which seems also to be a major cause of division.

"We must not," he said, "permit anyone to inspire quarrels that eventually find good citizens bitterly opposed to other good citizens, when basically all would like to be joined in effective opposition to Communism."

The President spoke at ceremonies marking the 200th anniversary of Columbia university. His address was televised and broadcast nationally.

McCarthy Not Mentioned

Mr. Eisenhower did not mention Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy by name in his speech but many who heard him felt there was no doubt he referred to the Wisconsin senator.

When asked in Washington if any of the President's remarks were directed at McCarthy, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he was not going to interpret the President's speech. Other administration sources, asked the same question, replied, "Who else."

The President condemned enemies of free thought whether they be agents of a foreign power or "demagogues thirsty for personal power and public notice."

He pledged that "through knowledge and understanding we will drive from the temple of freedom all those who seek to establish over us thought control."

Citizens Against Citizens

The President said the United States is "approaching the end of freedom's road" if it accepts the view that honest dissent is tantamount to disloyal subversion.

"We must not permit anyone to inspire quarrels that eventually find good citizens bitterly opposed to other good citizens, when basically all would like to be joined in effective opposition to Communism."

He said he had no doubt that there is no subject on which Americans are so completely united as their opposition to Communism. At the same time, he said it seems to be a major cause of division.

The President flew here from Washington for the address and returned to Washington Monday night.

W. D. McClellan, 81, Eldorado, Dies

William Daniel McClellan, 81, 1212 Grant street, Eldorado, died Monday at 7 a. m. in the Pearce hospital.

He was a retired farmer and had been ill for approximately three years.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Delia Sutton and Mrs. Earl Renshaw, and one sister, Mrs. Cora Swinney, all of Eldorado; ten grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Eldorado First Methodist church. Rev. R. W. Robling, West Frankfort, assisted by Rev. C. C. Lowe, will officiate. Burial will be in Wesley cemetery.

He was a member of the Methodist church at Wesley.

The body now lies in state at the Martin funeral home.

Task is Not Finished, Gwaltney Says in Memorial Day Address

James Gwaltney, American Legion official, yesterday said that the dead already have done their part but the task is not finished and we should dedicate ourselves, our fortunes, our lives to support those things for which others already have died.

Gwaltney, organization officer for the Department of Illinois of the Legion and a member of Harrisburg's George Hart post, said "the future is in our hands," in a Memorial Day address at Sunset Lawn cemetery.

The soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen, he said, are entitled to our respect and the intent and aim of Memorial Day is that they

Nine Killed in Crash of Air Guard Plane

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—A C47 Air National Guard plane carrying 14 men from the Indianapolis Speedway race plowed into gravel pits Monday night, killing nine and injuring five.

The dead included seven Air National Guardsmen, a member of the Air Force, and a retired National Guard colonel, D. C. Ott. All the injured were Air National Guardsmen. Both dead and injured were all from the Duluth area.

The plane apparently belly-flopped onto the ground as it was making its final approach for a landing at Duluth Municipal Airport. It plowed a furrow through the hilly, pitted terrain for about three blocks.

Rescue crews found at least five bodies scattered about the ground and more inside the plane's twisted fuselage.

Although the plane was badly ripped, its main structure remained intact and men who had kept their safety belts fastened survived. There apparently was no fire.

The plane was attached to the Minnesota National Guard and apparently carried mostly Duluth area guardsmen, officials said.

Two survivors, William Lang and Sgt. Earl Sugars, were both Duluth residents.

Officials did not say why the plane was carrying the men from the Indianapolis Memorial Day race.

George Patton, 76, Dies; Rites Wednesday

George Patton, 76, died Monday at 5 a. m. at the Lightner hospital. Patton was born March 28, 1878, in Batesville, Ala., and had lived in this vicinity for approximately 35 years. He lived in Wilmette addition at the time of his death.

Mr. Patton had mined coal in Saline county from 1919 until his retirement in 1943. His only relative is a brother, Cullen Patton, whose present address is unknown.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Keathley funeral home on East Walnut street. Friends may call after 7 p. m. today.

County Board To Meet June 14

The June meeting of the Saline County Board of Supervisors will be held Monday, June 14, it was announced today in the county clerk's office.

must never be forgotten.

"Our country owes a debt to them for the priceless heritage we enjoy today," he continued. "They are responsible for our being here today. Without them we would not have Memorial Day, no American Legion, no Veterans of Foreign Wars."

Peace Is Not Won

"Had they not been willing to lay down life itself, the chances are we would have no America at all," Gwaltney pointed out that the peace is not yet won and a hope for an enduring friendship has not been fulfilled, and it is up to us to strive to bring these about although prospects seem to fade in this atomic age.

The Memorial Day services began with a parade, headed by the HTHS band and the Legion and VFW Color Guard and Firing Squad, which moved from McKinley Avenue Baptist church directly to Sunset Lawn.

The VFW Auxiliary had charge of the first part of the services. With Florence Hancock, Auxiliary president in charge, the group went through its Memorial ritual at the official VFW Memorial.

A wreath was placed on the stone and John Schork sang "Sleep, Soldier, Sleep."

Then the VFW Auxiliary presented corsages to approximately a score of Gold Star Mothers who were present. This ceremony ended with a Salute by the Firing Squad and Taps.

This group, after placing flowers on the graves of three departed members—Gertrude Patterson, Laura Medlin and Maude Gaskins—went to the Memorial plaque at Taylor Field where the ritual was repeated and a wreath was placed.

The service at the Miniature cemetery began with the HTHS band playing the National Anthem. Then with Robert Hull, Legion commander, presiding, the program was held. The invocation was by the Rev. John Yuhus, following remarks by Frieda Keltner, Legion Auxiliary president, this group also presented flowers to the Gold Star Mothers. Gwaltney spoke following the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the Rev. J. W. Duke pronounced the benediction.

There followed the placing of the wreath, the Salute by the Firing Squad and Taps.

Death Takes Mrs. W. A. Summers; Rites Wednesday

Mrs. Maggie E. Summers, 67, wife of Rev. W. A. Summers, Dorris Heights, died in the Lightner hospital Sunday at 1:15 p. m. following an illness of two years.

Mrs. Summers was born August 5, 1886, in Norris City to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Witticher, and in 1901 she married Rev. William Arthur Summers.

Besides her husband she leaves the following children: Andy Summers, Cairo, Alfred Summers, Pontiac, Mich., Arthur Summers, East St. Louis, Byford Summers, Thelma Hill, Velma Gwaltney, Nomas Summers and Helen Hargett, all of Harrisburg; two sisters, Mrs. Etha Brinkley, Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Gusta Colvin, St. Louis, Mo.; 16 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. She is also survived by her stepmother, Mrs. Janie Witticher, 94, who lives in Gossett.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Sloan street General Baptist church. Rev. Ned Sutton and Rev. Arthur Austin will officiate, and burial will be in Mt. Oval cemetery near Gossett.

The Turner funeral home will be in charge. The body is at the residence.

Southern Leaders Join Presbyterian Church Unity Move

MONTREAT, N. C. (AP)—Southern Presbyterian leaders joined officials of two big Northern branches of the denomination today in a concerted move to end almost a century of division within their church.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. voted at its 94th convocation Monday night to ask 780,000 members in 17 Southern states and the District of Columbia to approve unification.

The vote of 283-169 after three hours of emotional debate followed similar action by assemblies of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. Northern and the United Presbyterian Church.

The question now must be submitted to the presbyteries of the three big branches and, with the approval of three-fourths of them, be resubmitted to the assemblies in 1955.

McCarthy, during his verbal dueling with McClellan, got in several new broadsides against Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., who is emerging as his favorite target in the administration.

The brown box was about two feet square and was filled mostly with manila folders containing papers which represented Schine's work—first as an unpaid civilian consultant and later when he was on special passes from the Army.

Two Collisions In Saline County; Woman is Hurt

Saline county came through the Memorial Day holiday traffic jam in remarkable fashion, a survey disclosed today, despite the excessive number of cars on the highway.

Only two collisions in this county were reported by state police, one resulting in an injury to a woman.

State Policeman Roy A. Lane said that Mrs. Gertie Henning of Harrisburg was treated for a lacerated forehead and released following a three-vehicle crash on Route 45 at Ledford Saturday noon.

He said that a pickup truck driven by her husband, Benjamin, struck a car driven by Robert Townley of Indianapolis and the Townley car was knocked into an auto driven by Homer Smith of Pontiac, Mich.

All were headed southward and the crash occurred after Smith and Townley stopped because of a mail man in front getting ready to stop for a mail delivery. The other crash occurred at Liberty Crossing on Route 45 and damage was slight, it was reported by State Policeman Guthrie Alexander.

Lane reported two other crashes, one Saturday and one Sunday, but both were out of this county. There were no injuries in either.

At 4 a. m. Saturday three automobiles piled up on a bridge just south of Norris City in White county and nobody was hurt. At noon Sunday a pickup truck driven by Dale Reynolds of Herod and a car driven by a Hancock youth from Marion sideswiped on a curve on a gravel road near Williams Hill in Pope county with Reynolds getting a small cut on the elbow.

The city also had a safe week-end although the traffic was extra heavy to the cemeteries. There were four traffic tickets given, two for speeding and two for running stop signs.

Administration Asked to Rule On Information

Sens. McClellan,
McCarthy Dispute
Right of Directive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) called today for an administration decision on whether members of Congress are entitled to security information obtained through "theft" if congressional committees cannot get it by subpoena.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) replied that no law, only a presidential directive, withholds this information from Congress and that Congress is bound by no such directive.

In this exchange, another chapter in McCarthy's conflict with the Eisenhower administration was unfolded during the Senate investigations subcommittee's 24th day of hearings on the dispute between the Army and McCarthy.

McClellan said he was not interested in seeing whether anyone went to jail but wanted the issue settled.

The issue to which he referred has tied the committee in knots periodically for days over McCarthy's insistence that he has the right—and will continue to exercise it—to receive secret information from government employees in disobedience of presidential orders and to protect such informants.

Issue Arises Today

It arose again today when Roy M. Cohn, McCarthy aide and regular chief counsel for the investigating subcommittee, was spending his third day in the witness chair. He broke out shortly after a large brown box of G. David Schine's work for the subcommittee was hauled into the hearing room.

As the situation stood when the hearing recessed for lunch, McCarthy and Cohn were to screen the material to see what could be handed over to special counsel Ray H. Jenkins for reference in further cross-examination of Cohn.

McCarthy, during his verbal dueling with McClellan, got in several new broadsides against Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., who is emerging as his favorite target in the administration.

The brown box was about two feet square and was filled mostly with manila folders containing papers which represented Schine's work—first as an unpaid civilian consultant and later when he was on special passes from the Army.

Cohn Was Questioned

Before the brown box was carried into the hearing room, Cohn had been questioned at length by special counsel Ray H. Jenkins, one of the Army's more explosive allegations against him.

Cohn said (1) he can "come pretty close to denying" that he ever threatened to "get" Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens' job if Schine were sent overseas; and (2) it is "ridiculous" to charge that he ever threatened to "wreck the Army" in anger at being barred from a secret radar laboratory.

Cohn also denied under oath sworn testimony that he once rebuked an Army official for lodging a protest about him with his boss, Senator McCarthy.

Brownfield Man Is Fatally Injured

Robert M. Joiner, 48, resident of Brownfield, was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Cairo Sunday night.

Surviving are his wife and four children.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Pentecost church in Brownfield. The body now lies in state at the Hoffman funeral home in Golconda.

Illinois Wesleyan Students Stage Pantomime Raid As Storms Hit Sections of State

CHICAGO (AP)—Severe thunderstorms and high winds swept sections of Illinois early today, causing heavy property damage and prompting Illinois Wesleyan students to stage a "pantomime raid."

A violent wind storm struck the Bloomington-Normal area shortly after midnight, knocking out the cities' power and light plant, blowing out store windows and uprooting trees in the area.

Students at Illinois Wesleyan University took advantage of the near-tornado to stage a "pantomime raid" on Pfeiffer Hall, women's residence dormitory. Dean William T. Beadles called police to help catch the students, but only one squad car was available.

Bloomington police said they learned there was to be another raid today and ordered the arrest of any male students found loitering around the women's hall.

The wind struck from the southwest and moved across the two communities, uprooting trees like

Gov't Considers Declaring Korean War At An End to Curtail Veterans' Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is considering declaring the Korean war at an end as far as key veterans benefits are concerned.

The main effect would be to cut off further entitlement to the free four-year college educations now available under the so-called Korean GI Bill of Rights to draftees who spend two years in uniform.

Instead, as an incentive to voluntary long-term enlistments, some such educational benefit would be provided for men who sign up for military terms of four or more years.

Assistant Defense Secretary John A. Hannah is understood to have made the proposal as part of a new military recruitment and reserve plan that also calls for inauguration of a modified form of universal military training.

Hannah's plan is being studied by government agencies for possible submission to Congress.

A move to end further acquisition of free school entitlement under the Korean GI Bill is developing also in Congress.

Rep. Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.), ranking Democratic member of the House Veterans committee, has been sounding out veterans organizations, school officials, and government agencies on when they think this should be done.

Teague fathered the Korean GI Bill, which was patterned after the World War II GI Bill under which the government so far has educated 7,500,000 World War II veterans—about half of all who served—and which has cost so far about 14-billion dollars.

Other benefits under both World War II and Korean GI Bills include home loan guarantees and special unemployment insurance. Under the current law veterans also could muting out pay of $100, $200, or $300.

A Defense Department witness, Air Force Assistant Secretary H. Lee White, tipped off the department's feelings about the GI benefits in testimony before the House Armed Services Committee last week.

"It would appear that the incentives that exist are incentives to leave the military service rather than incentives to stay in the military service," he said.

He said men want to get out of service after two years, so they can collect their benefits.

What Hannah wants to do is offer new incentives to make the military more attractive as a career, and at the same time to build strong reserves—and thus lessen the need for big standing forces—by initiating a modified form of UMT.

358 Highway Deaths in Nation Is Worst Toll

By United Press

Generally fair weather caused a tremendous weekend traffic jam, resulting in the death of 358 persons in highway crashes—exceeding any three-day Memorial holiday period in history.

Ninety-five persons drowned, 20 died in airplane mishaps, and 69 in miscellaneous types of accidents for a total of 542 accidental deaths.

Although the weather across the nation was generally good during the weekend, several communities in the Great Plains and Midwest were hit by tornadoes and thunderstorms that left 6 persons dead, at least 12 injured and considerable property damage.

The highway toll exceeded the worst fears of the National Safety Council which had estimated, before the weekend began, that 340 persons would be killed in traffic.

Illinois had the worst death rate of any state—34 deaths. Experts had predicted only 25 there.

California was next with 30 followed by Michigan with 21. Ohio and Wisconsin with 20 each, and New York with 17. Florida had 14 and Indiana 13.

Highway accidents claimed about 4.6 lives an hour during the weekend.

Former Local Woman Injured in Crash Is In Critical Condition

Mrs. Loren Miller, the former Mary Graham, Canton, who was seriously injured in an auto collision near Mt. Vernon Friday night, is still in a critical condition in the Good Samaritan hospital in Mt. Vernon.

In the accident Mr. Miller and his eight-month-old daughter, Carla, were killed, and Mrs. Miller and two other daughters, Barbara, and Sandra, were critically injured.

Mrs. Miller, a first cousin to Mrs. Eugene Schnierle, attended the Harrisburg Township high school and worked in Schnierle's cafe on Saturdays and after school.

36 Killed on State Highways During Week End

Three Plane Deaths,
Three Drownings
And Two in Fires

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois emerged from the car-jammed Memorial holiday weekend with the highest traffic death toll in the nation, 36 dead.

Besides the number killed in Illinois, there were at least 10 Illinois residents killed in traffic accidents outside the state. Drownings in Illinois took 3 lives, fires 2 and plane crashes 3, to bring the holiday toll within the state to 44.

Five Illinois residents died Monday when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into the side of a diesel locomotive pulling a Soo Line freight train in Trevor, Wis. The dead all from Chicago, were: Joel Seres, 19, Gaspar De Stefano, 23, Delores Jefferson, 18, Maryann Czarny, 19, and George Kostoff, 4. Their car was demolished.

Three Die in Kentucky
Three members of a Hecker, Ill., family were killed and three seriously injured Monday when their car collided with a truck 10 miles east of Shelbyville, Ky.

Killed were George Wagner, 63, his wife, Clara, 50, Hecker, and Mary Wagner, 60, Fairview. Two sons, Charles, 26, and Melvin, 24, and Charles Wagner's wife Teresa, 21, were injured.

Two others killed in separate accidents in Wisconsin were: Mrs. Walter H. Neumanns, 45, Oak Lawn, who died in a head-on collision near Antigo, and Muriel Johnson, 21, Rockford, who was the victim of an accident near Fontana.

The latest auto fatality in Illinois was William Hansen, 67, of Sterling.

Ann Chadwick, 8, Chicago, died in a blaze at her home Saturday while attempting to rescue her 4-year-old stepbrother.

Five Killed, Six Injured
One of the nation's worst single auto accidents occurred Saturday night near Glenmar. Five persons were killed and six were injured in a two-car collision.

Dr. Jules Montenier, wealthy cosmetics manufacturer, was critically injured and his wife was killed in a Friday night accident near Barrington.

List of Dead

The dead in Illinois traffic accidents: Helen Montenier, 50, Chicago; Wilbur Salzman, 35, Elgin; Sally Stevenson, 20, Evanston; Judith Lihosit, 5, Chicago; Jerry Klamen, 15, Harvard; Walter Brock, 24, Bourbonnais; Loren Miller, 53, Canton, and his infant daughter; Marvin Jones, 21, Mount Vernon; James Boyd, 21, Mount Vernon; John Morato, 60, Chicago; Fred Gasaway, 43, Chicago; James Reynolds, 43, Chicago; James Reynolds, 43, Chicago; James Reynolds, 43, Chicago.

SIU Trustees Approve Plan to Aid Small Businesses

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees today approved development of a proposal that the University, working with various area leaders, seek ways by which SIU may provide assistance for small businesses as a means toward increasing area employment.

Following requests from and conferences with area bankers, manufacturers, labor representatives, businessmen and university representatives, proposals now include the setting up of a training program for small business personnel and for students intending to engage in small businesses and establishment of an institute which would attempt to solve area small business problems through a consulting service and a central source of information.

Such service would be provided by area laymen and by SIU personnel in the Vocational-Technical Institute and such departments as Economics, Business Administration, Industrial Education, Psychology, Geography and Geology. Involved also would be research on problems concerning small businesses.

In other action the board, 1—Appointed Ivan Lee Russell, Ann Arbor, Mich., as lecturer in Guidance and Special Education, taking the place of Prof. Marshall S. Hiskey who will be on leave during the 1954-55 academic year. Russell holds bachelor and masters degrees from Southern and is working toward a doctorate at the University of Michigan. A former teacher in the Nashville Community High School, he is at present chairman of the school health department and psychologist for the Ann Arbor Public Schools; 2—Approved payment of resident fellows (in charge of men's housing units) in terms of room, board, and tuition, and 3—Approved final payment of $28,672 to Federal Contractors, Incorporated, for construction of Woody Hall, residence for women.

Harvard's Dr. Pusey Defends Freedom in U. S. Universities

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Harvard's young President Nathan M. Pusey, who came from Iowa originally, delivered a load of good midwestern horse sense on the subject of "Loyalty and Freedom in American Universities" the other day in an appearance before the Washington National Press Club. Incidentally, Dr. Pusey evened up a couple of old scores with Wisconsin Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, who has been one of his most severe critics.

Dr. Pusey had been president of Lawrence College at Appleton, Wis., the senator's home town, before going to Harvard last year. And while the senator has given his former townsman only the typical McCarthy treatment, Dr. Pusey managed to reply to some pretty sharp questions in perfect good humor and without getting mad or even angry, as they say in Boston.

Press Club President Tony Vaccaro, who himself is becoming rather celebrated for his brand of dry, deadpan Tennessee wit, set the tone for the proceedings in presenting Dr. Pusey.

"I wanted to introduce Dr. Pusey as 'The Man From Appleton,'" said Tony, "but that would not sufficiently identify him. There are 34,000 odd people in Appleton. I should have said there were 34,000 odd people in Appleton, most of whom are not odd at all."

"Dr. Pusey has never written a book," he added, "but he must have read a lot of 'em."

TAKING THE BULL by the horns, Dr. Pusey came immediately to grips with the question of why Harvard had been reluctant to fire a certain professor several months ago.

This was a reference to Prof. Wendell H. Furry. In February, 1953, Professor Furry had refused to answer House un-American Activities Committee questions on past Communist associations. Just a year ago, Professor Furry was put on three years' probation for having told a government agent that a job applicant was not a Communist, when he knew the man was. All this was before Dr.

Pusey became head of Harvard last September.

He was asked pointedly why Harvard should believe a teacher when he refuses to say under oath whether he is a Communist. He replied that since that time, Doctor Furry has said under oath he was not a Communist. Harvard would not keep any man on its faculty who was under Communist discipline, but it would not dismiss a man on unproved charges. Invoking the Fifth Amendment was not an admission of guilt.

THERE IS NO one on the faculty today who is a Communist, Dr. Pusey declared. There were three who had been and two of them were still on the faculty. Also in the 1930's there had been a group of 14 or 15 young instructors at Harvard who had been in a Communist club. Only one of them was on the faculty now, and he was not a Communist.

This, then, was the situation which led Senator McCarthy to declare last November that Harvard was a "smelly mess," where the students were being indoctrinated by Communist professors. Harvard, Dr. Pusey pointed out, has 10,000 students and 3,000 teachers.

He was asked if he thought the theory of communism should be taught in U. S. schools. "Of course," he replied. "The more we learn about it, the better we can fight it." At another point he declared that "Universities will always be in the forefront in the fight on communism. But in this process, care must be taken not to destroy our own way of life." He said we must not be misled "by those who would exploit a few examples for their own private gain."

PIN-POINTING this reference, another question was "Do you believe Senator McCarthy took advantage of the Fifth Amendment by refusing to reveal the name of the officer who gave him the Army document on the FBI report?"

"It all depends on how you use language," said Dr. Pusey, "and sometimes people use it pretty carelessly."

"Would Harvard award Senator McCarthy the degree of D. D.—for Doctor of Documents?"

President Pusey let that one pass without comment.

He was asked if he thought there were any Communist students or any McCarthy followers on the campus now. And if the answer was, "No!" did that mean he was falling down on his job?

Dr. Pusey said he thought college students today were pretty much above politics. He didn't believe there were any Communists at Harvard now. "There had been a club supporting McCarthy. They gave it the same academic freedom they would any other club."

Father of H-Bomb--Dr. Edward Teller Sought Development After Fuchs' Arrest

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Dr. Edward Teller is the father of the H-bomb.

A native of Budapest, Hungary, and a brilliant physicist, Dr. Teller, 46, was one of the first men on the famed atomic bomb Manhattan Project. A fellow scientist with him then says of Teller today:

"It's doubtful that anyone would want to claim parentage for the unbelievable force of the hydrogen bomb, which threatens to change the course of history overnight. But if you want to point a finger at one man and call him the father of it you'd point to Dr. Teller, although a lot of other men have contributed, too."

Dr. Teller came to the U. S. in 1935 to teach physics at George Washington University. It's astonishing that the following words taken from a routine lecture he delivered in 1938 actually explain the hydrogen bomb:

"... nuclear reactions liberate energy a million times greater than that obtained from any chemical reaction."

"... the stars which produce the most energy have a high content of 'combustible' nuclei such as lithium and particularly heavy hydrogen... these nuclei burn in an atmosphere of hydrogen."

Almost before radiation "fall-out" from the first atomic explosion over Japan had reached the ground, Dr. Teller was predicting the development of the hydrogen bomb. He told a congressional committee early in 1946:

"Future atomic bombs will become less expensive, be easier to handle and have much greater destructive power. I am also convinced that it is not difficult to construct bombs which will dwarf the Hiroshima bomb in the same way that bomb has dwarfed high explosives."

A year earlier Dr. Teller had held a seminar among scientists at Los Alamos, N. M., the secret Atomic Energy Commission lab which produced the first A-bomb. During it he explained in great detail his theoretical and mechanical solutions to the problems of making a hydrogen bomb.

An avid note-taker at the sessions was the bespectacled Dr. Klaus Fuchs, later convicted as a Russian espionage agent. Close friends of Dr. Teller say that his realization later that Fuchs had attended the seminar changed both Teller's personality and mission in life.

It's a matter of record that not long after Fuchs' arrest Dr. Teller became the aggressive, chief advocate for America building an H-bomb. He was convinced Russia could and would build one. He sold the idea to Lewis L. Strauss, then a member of the AEC and today its chairman. Together they sold President Truman on going ahead with the project.

That was in 1950 and Dr. Teller was put in charge of making an H-bomb in a program set up at Los Alamos. Apparently the opposition to the project among other scientists there and in the AEC irked him very much and he felt that it was holding up his work.

A man working with him at the time says:

"During this period he got the nickname 'wild man.' He has a game leg from a street car accident in Budapest but it didn't keep him from being loud, energetic while stalking rapidly up and down the hall. Alternating among the five languages he speaks he would shake the walls with criticism of delays in his program."

As a result of this impatience with the way things were going at Los Alamos Dr. Teller managed to get a more independent site for his work at an AEC lab at Livermore, Cal., now considered the home of the hydrogen bomb.

Friends who knew him before he got involved in the nuclear weapon program are astonished at the "wild man" nickname he has since earned. Before his arrival at George Washington University a professor there got the following note:

"You'll find Dr. Teller youthful and attractive in appearance. He and his charming wife Mitzi, also a Hungarian, will be welcome additions to your faculty circle. He plays the piano very well and has a real sense of humor."

The advance build-up proved accurate. In addition he delighted his students with an endless variety of tricks and gadgets to illustrate his courses. One day, for example, he brought a battered old umbrella and flashlight to class to demonstrate some principle of light refraction. He said to the class:

"I could never understand why Newton didn't discover this law this way until I investigated and discovered that umbrellas were first used 10 years after the death of Newton."

Friends say Teller has aged considerably in the past few hectic years. However, he still operates with tremendous energy and drive. He's stocky and dark and has a heavy crop of thick black hair which always seems mussed up. He dresses conservatively and neatly, not at all in the style of the absent-minded professor.

Before arriving at George Washington he had studied and taught at the University of Leipzig, Germany, in Copenhagen and in London. Since then he has taught at Columbia University and the University of Chicago.

He came from a well-to-do Hungarian family.

Even before his hydrogen bomb was a reality, he predicted what its effect could be on life in the United States. In an article written in 1946 he said:

"We shall have to abandon habits which the people of our big cities have acquired for a century. The mode of life will be suburban, not a rural one. People will live near fields, but work in factories and stores. Life will depend on fast transportation. Many modern architects and city planners will argue that this will be an asset, rather than a liability."

Meeting June 4 To Discuss Grain Storage Problems

Plans have been made for a county-wide meeting to discuss grain storage problems in connection with this year's farm crops. This meeting will be held starting at 1 p. m. on June 4 at the city hall, Harrisburg.

The meeting has been planned jointly by the local ASC office and L. B. Kimmel, the farm adviser, advised Edgar V. Thompson of the local ASC office. "This meeting is open to the public," he said, "and any farmer, including absentee land owners, or other persons interested in farm grain storage will be welcome."

Department of Agriculture officials have pointed out that relatively serious storage problems can be expected in all grain producing regions this year if crop yields are normal. They further pointed out that farmers must have adequate facilities available to store their crops in order to take full advantage of price support programs. At this meeting there will be a review of the things the government is doing to help each farmer meet his storage problems as well as a discussion of different types of safe storage, both permanent and temporary, insect and moisture control, and other related items. Also there will probably be present representatives of some of the bin and crib manufacturers who will be available to discuss problems with individual farmers.

"Any farmer who does not have sufficient storage space for his 1954 crops," advises Mr. Thompson, "should attend this meeting or call at the ASC office for additional information."

Control of NYC Still in Doubt

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—Control of the vast New York Central Railroad system remained in doubt today and officials said it may be weeks before the outcome of the fight between financier Robert R. Young and the present management is known.

Three university law professors, counting more than six million votes cast by shareholders on a new board of directors, told Central President William White the official tabulation is still incomplete.

They asked for more time as White reconvened a stockholders meeting.

"The official count will not be ready today and it may be weeks.

MRS. MARGARET PICK

Carbondale, Illinois, Cake-Baker Praises Mrs. Tucker's Creamier Shortening!

"I have baked lots of cakes before, but this was the first time I had ever used Mrs. Tucker's Shortening," says Mrs. Margaret Pick, Route No. 3, Carbondale, Illinois, of her recent test baking. "For the test I tried a Fluffy Yellow Cake recipe, and it turned out as fine a layer cake as anyone could want! I especially noted how quickly and easily Mrs. Tucker's ALL-Vegetable Shortening creamed and mixed, and how moist and tender the finished cake was."

Here's Mrs. Tucker's amazing triple guarantee—If you don't say: "(1) Mrs. Tucker's makes any bread or cake richer, more moist and tender... (2) any pastry lighter and flakier... (3) any fried foods tastier and more digestible," send the recipe to Mrs. Tucker telling what you don't like about the results, and she will pay you for all the ingredients used PLUS a dollar for your time.

Fluffy Yellow Cake

Cream together until light and fluffy	1 cup MRS. TUCKER'S Shortening
Add and beat well	2 cups sugar
Sift together	4 egg yolks
Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with	1 teaspoon vanilla
Fold in	3 cups sifted cake flour
	3 teaspoons baking powder
	1/4 teaspoon salt
	1 cup milk
	4 egg whites, beaten stiff, not dry

Pour batter into 3 round 8-inch layer cake pans which have been lined with wax paper cut to fit. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. Also will make 2 large 9-inch round layers.

The ONLY Shortening That's TRIPLE GUARANTEED!

Social and Personal Items

Mrs. E. M. Travelstead is Hostess to Chapter Z. P. E. O.

Mrs. E. M. Travelstead was hostess to Chapter Z. P. E. O. at a luncheon and meeting Friday at the Travelstead country home, Hillcroft Farm. The spacious lawn and beautiful flowers on the grounds made a picturesque setting for the luncheon which was served out of doors.

Mrs. Ray Durham, Mrs. B. G. Funkhouser, Mrs. K. C. Capel, Mrs. J. V. Capel, Mrs. J. W. Towle, Mrs. C. E. Taylor and Mrs. Bruce Polk composed a committee assisting Mrs. Travelstead.

Chapter Z welcomed Mrs. Frank Parker, who was present for the first time since returning from a winter in Florida.

Mrs. Lloyd L. Parker, president, presided at the business session, at which time Mrs. Carl Rude and Mrs. Travelstead were elected as alternates to serve on the 1957 convention committee. Mrs. C. E. Combe was elected to serve as advisor on the committee.

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Carl Rude, read an invitation from Chapter AT of Lawrenceville, inviting members of Chapter Z to a reciprocity meeting and luncheon on Saturday, June 26. Members of Chapter Z desiring to attend are to make reservations with Mrs. Bruce Polk not later than June 19.

Financial reports covering various funds were given by Mrs. C. E. Combe, Mrs. K. C. Capel and Mrs. Lloyd L. Parker.

The program was presented by Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, whose subject was "Mid-Century Alaska." It was brought out how valuable Alaska is, how much it has developed in recent years and the prospects for its future development. The talk was supplemented by colored slides taken by Lt. Col. C. K. Veatch and Mrs. Veatch in and near Anchorage, Alaska, where they are now stationed.

Crescent Home Bureau Elects Officers

Mrs. Ronald Coon, 120 West Logan, was hostess Thursday evening to the Crescent Home Bureau unit. Mrs. James Moore and Mrs. Frank Jarrell were assistant hostesses.

Mrs. C. Wayne Brown demonstrated the major topic, "Yeast Bread Variations," by making several kinds of tasty rolls. The minor topic, "Insect Bites," was presented by Mrs. Alonzo Shewmake Jr.

During the business session the following officers for the coming year were elected: Mrs. Paul Vinyard, chairman; Mrs. Carl P. Woolcott, vice chairman; Mrs. Robert Rose, secretary; Mrs. Ward Woolard, treasurer; Mrs. James Stunson, program chairman; Mrs. James Johnson, health and safety chairman; Mrs. Edgar Price, 4-H chairman; and Mrs. Howard Coyle, publicity chairman. Mrs. Stunson, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Roger Taylor and Mrs. Shewmake were committee members to plan the annual August picnic. Mrs. Eugene Neihaus was welcomed as a new member of the unit.

Game prize was won by Mrs. Vinyard.

Refreshments were served to those named, Mrs. Gene Irvin and Mrs. Cecil Harris.

Eddie Seright, son of Mrs. Catherine Seright, and Russell McDowell, who lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McDowell, while attending DTHS last term, left Sunday for Denver and Estes Park, Colo. McDowell will spend the summer with his mother, Mrs. Ted Britzker and Seright anticipates summer employment in the Estes Park area. Both will re-enter DTHS this fall.

Paul N. Healy and family have moved from Bellefontaine, Ohio, to Mattoon, Ill. Mr. Healy is assistant supervisor at Mattoon for the New York Central railroad. Mrs. Healy is the former Evelyn DeGroat of Harrisburg. Their Mattoon address is 3409 Marshall street.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Batt and daughter, Susie, of Brookings, S. D., are visiting here with her father, O. T. Swinney, and Mrs. Swinney.

Town and Country Home Bureau Unit Has Meeting

The regular meeting of Town and Country Home Bureau was held Thursday afternoon, May 27, at the home of Mrs. Jim Bolen with eight members present.

The major topic, "Yeast Bread Variations," was given and demonstrated by Mrs. Bolen and Mrs. Wanda Johnson. The minor topic, "Insect Bites," was presented by Mrs. Helen Walker.

Refreshments of the yeast bread variations and Cokes were served to Mrs. Norma Carpenter, Mrs. Laurana Horn, Mrs. Joan Land, Mrs. Vera Vaughn, Mrs. Catherine Eises, Mrs. Wanda Johnson, Mrs. Helen Walker and the hostess, Mrs. Liz Bolen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. (Bob) Hine of Stevens Point, Wis., spent the Memorial day week-end with his brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Brown. They will leave Wednesday for Stevens Point via Greencastle, Ind., and Beloit, Wis., where their daughter and son are completing current college terms. Mr. Hine is a high official in the sales department of the Federated Hardware and Implement Mutuals insurance group.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mitsdarffer left Sunday for their summer home, Thad Ranch, in Estes Park, Colo.

Mrs. Mark Burnam returned home Sunday after a two weeks visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heffington in Chevy Chase, Md.

Job's Daughters To Hold School at Eldorado June 4

Mrs. Thelma M. Gerold, Calumet City, Ill., Grand Guardian of Illinois International Order of Job's Daughters, and the Vice Grand Guardian, Mrs. John Ausburger, will conduct a school of instructions for Eldorado Bethel No. 64 of Job's Daughters, June 4, at 10 a. m.

They are holding a school at Norris City June 3, and one in East St. Louis, June 5.

Newly elected officers of the Eldorado Bethel were installed last Saturday night. They are expected to attend the school. Miss Mary Ann Cagle is Guardian, and Miss Marietta King, is Queen.

The function of the order is to band together young girls of Masonic relationship for character building through moral and spiritual development. The order is based on the book of Job. Virtues which are the principals of Masonry and are the attributes of Job are upheld, such as innocence, piety, modesty, straight forwardness, honesty, and pity.

Projects include help for the Shrine hospitals, for polio sufferers, cancer sufferers, providing guide dogs for the blind and help for the Masonic and Eastern Star homes.

The International order maintains an education loan fund, which may be borrowed interest free by the Daughters. Many scholarships are also available for outstanding members to complete their education in the college or university of their choice.

Mrs. Andy Jackson Dies at Galatia

Mrs. Teresa Ann Jackson, 80, widow of Andy Jackson, died at her home in Galatia Sunday afternoon.

She is survived by the following children: Anna Tate, Long Beach, Calif.; A. L. Jackson of Anna, E. M. Jackson, Galatia; Mrs. Zilma Field and A. A. Jackson, both of Marion, Ohio; J. H. Jackson, Galatia; Mrs. Gena Smith, Napa, Calif.; Mrs. Wilma Lightfoot, Oakland, and Claude Jackson, Pontiac, Mich.; and one sister Mrs. Etta Hayes, Poplar Bluff, Mo.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Bates Chapel church of which she was one of the oldest members. Rev. Rudolph Barnett, McLeansboro, pastor of the church, will officiate, assist ed by Rev. Irvin Braden, Galatia. Burial will be in the Jackson cemetery.

The body lies in state at the Courtney funeral home.

UMW Members

Refuse to Work in

2 Kentucky Mines

HAZARD, Ky. (AP)—United Mine Workers members refused to work at two mines in the Hazard field today after the mine owners decided not to renew the expired UMW contract.

The situation at the Marlowe Coal Co. Defiance and Stoker mines shaped up as a test of strength of a growing sentiment among eastern Kentucky operators to scrap their agreements with the UMW as a means of cutting costs.

With unemployment widespread in the coalfields because the mine owners say they cannot compete at existing wage levels, many of the operators feel that miners would be willing to work at lower non-union wages.

At a meeting here Monday, however, miners agreed not to work at the two mines after the contract expired. Ova Turner, president of Defiance Local 5780 of the UMW, said "No contract, no work," notices were posted at both mines.

International UMW board member Tom Raney accused Marlowe of "fronting" for operators whom he said were "trying to put the squeeze" on union miners.

Before the election which made him Pope Pius XII, Eugenio Pacelli was secretary of state of Vatican City.

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Sgt. Clyde Durfee Is Awarded Bronze Star Medal

M-Sgt. Joyce Clyde Durfee

Clyde Durfee of Carrier Mills has been awarded the Bronze Star medal by the Department of the Army for "meritorious achievement in ground operations against the enemy" in Korea from Feb. 14 to July 27, 1953.

Durfee was a member of Co. C, 15th Infantry Regt., 3rd Infantry Div. and served in Korea for nine months, seven of those months being front line duty.

The citation, which was received Tuesday of this week, states that Sgt. Durfee, serving as a platoon sergeant, "effectively organized and trained new personnel in their respective duties, increasing the overall efficiency of the men."

materially aided in the fulfillment of his mission... this outstanding skill, initiative and untiring devotion to duty reflects great credit upon himself and the military service."

The period covered by this citation was a time when rotation of personnel had depleted the organization of experienced personnel and it was necessary to carry on a comprehensive training for recruits being received into the unit, in addition to other duties.

Durfee was a member of Company L, National Guard unit headquartered in Harrisburg, and entered federal service when the guard was called to duty, February, 1952. He was relieved from active duty September 20, 1953. He is married and lives in Carrier Mills, where he is employed at the O'Keefe Distributing company.

JACKIE D. MAYS, brother of Rasal Scott, 808 East Walnut, is completing his Air Force basic military training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the "Gateway to the Air Force." This is preparing him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work.

SGT. GRATTON KARNES SERVES IN GERMANY

Army Sgt. Gratton F. Karnes, 23, whose wife, Frances, lives in Raleigh, is serving with the 43rd Infantry Division in Germany. The "Winged Victory" division is receiving intensive training in southern Germany as part of the U. S. Seventh Army.

Sgt. Karnes, son of Mrs. Mabel Hayes, Route 1, Harrisburg, is a section chief in Battery D of the division's 168th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion.

A veteran of the fighting in Korea, he arrived in Europe in February 1953.

Retired Rural Carrier,

Dies at Eldorado

Sol E. Green, 63, died suddenly at his home in the College Heights area of Eldorado, Monday at 2:30 p. m. Death was due to a heart attack.

He was a retired rural mail carrier and was financial secretary of the Odd Fellows lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Bess, and three children, Paul and Wayne Green, both of Eldorado, and Pearl Green at home; two brothers, Herschel Green, Eldorado RFD, and Carl Green, Omaha RFD; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 4 p. m. at the Oak Grove General Baptist church, east of Eldorado. Rev. Ned Sutton will officiate, and burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body lies in state at the Bean and Tanner funeral home.

McCarthy's Tactics Parallels Adolf Hitler's, Sen. Flanders Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.) told the Senate today that the anti-Communist campaign of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy "so completely parallels that of Adolf Hitler as to strike fear into the heart of any defenseless minority."

In a free-swinging attack delivered on the Senate floor, the Vermont Republican said McCarthy, like the cartoon character "Dennis the Menace," spreads "division and confusion wherever he goes."

Flanders accused McCarthy of "ax-happy efforts" to split his own Republican Party.

"Real Heart of Mystery?" Referring to the current Army-McCarthy hearings, Flanders also said the investigators have not yet dug into what he called "the real heart of the mystery."

"That mystery," he said, "concerns the personal relationships of the Army private, the staff assistant and the senator." The references were to Army Private G. David Schine, counsel Roy M. Cohn and McCarthy himself.

Flanders said that the staff assistant "seems to have an almost passionate anxiety" to retain the services of Pvt. Schine. He asked: "Why?"

Flanders said McCarthy, although at times anxious to "rid himself of the whole mess," seems to support Cohn's efforts "at least in the presence of his assistant."

Earlier today, another Republican—Chairman Homer Ferguson (Mich.) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee—took sharp issue with McCarthy's assertion that it is the duty of government employees to give him secret information in disobedience of a presidential order.

Ferguson, talking to reporters after a White House visit, said he does not believe members of the Senate should invite federal workers "to leave their loyalty to the administration and owe homage to the Senate."

He said federal workers should "go to the President first" if they discover subversion or corruption.

The requested new appropriation would be in addition to 23 billion dollars previously asked.

The largest single item in the new request was $945,997,000 for acquisition and construction of public works. The request also included funds for family housing and for access roads to the new installations.

The Nike is an aircraft defense weapon designed to help ward off enemy bombers attacking the North American continent.

Other late developments: Television: A Senate Commerce subcommittee, headed by Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.), postponed until June 15 further hearings on telecasting in the ultra-high frequency band. Representatives of major television networks and the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters will testify on the new date. They originally had been scheduled to appear Thursday and Friday.

$150,000 for Forest Research Center Expansion at SIU Approved by Committee

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen reported today that the Senate appropriations committee has approved requests totaling $150,000 for expanding research programs at the U. S. Forest Research Center at Southern Illinois university, Carbondale.

SIU President D. W. Morris was informed that the approved requests are divided into $75,000 for research in growing forest crops and an equal amount for strengthening present programs for developing forest industrial expansion.

Findings of research in southern Illinois not only will apply to the area but will be helpful to other parts of the nation having extensive hardwood forests, Dr. Morris says. Requests for additional research funds for the Carbondale Research Center were made on the basis that new employment opportunities are needed in Southern Illinois; that much of the state's forest resources are concentrated in the southern third of the state; that there is enough timber to support a wide variety of forest industries if properly utilized; and that the quantity and quality of the area's forests could be improved greatly through proper management and utilization.

Research into growing and using forest crops has been underway at the Carbondale Forest Research Center in co-operation with Southern Illinois university and various interested private industrial firms. These have contributed funds, land, equipment, labor, and other materials, according to Richard Lane, forester in charge of the Carbondale Research Center.

Southern Illinois university furnishes the Center with office space, statistical services, and research funds. The two agencies are co-operating in the development of a forest products utilization pilot plant, and the university is in the process of readying a building for housing the pilot plant on its Vocational-Technical Institute campus at Southern Acres near Carterville. The Research Center already has acquired some major equipment for use in the plant.

Two major goals have been set for such a pilot plant: new uses for forest products, particularly those utilizing the abundance of timber existing in southern Illinois, and training persons for woodwork-ing industries.

SCOUTS PLEDGE COOPERATION—Explorer James Ottolini, Troop 85, and Cub Scout Gary Lynn, Pack 16, Herrin, representing the 3,000 Boy Scouts of the Egyptian Council, send pledges of cooperation to President Eisenhower. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers from the entire 15 county area signed pledges to cooperate in the 1954 Conservation Good Turn requested by the president. The pledges read "I promise to take part in the Conservation Good Turn of the Boy Scouts of America during 1954, and I agree to live up to the Outdoor Code for Americans."

West Considers 4-Nation Neutral Indochina Group

GENEVA (AP)—The Western Big Three today considered a plan which would put a four-nation neutral commission in charge of an Indochina armistice without the risk of any Communist-imposed paralysis such as occurred in Korea.

Members of the commission would be the Soviet Union, Great Britain, Sweden and Switzerland. The nine-member Indochina conference was in recess today but individual meetings were held by both East and West.

Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov returned from a mystery trip to Moscow and immediately conferred with Red China's Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En Lai.

Smith Prompts Idea
The idea for a four-nation supervisory commission developed as a result of U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith's objection that no Communist state could be truly neutral.

Smith pointed to the experience in Korea where a commission, composed of two Communist states and two Western neutrals with India as in-between arbiter, was paralyzed because Communist members either boycotted commission meetings or failed to recognize decisions by the other two.

The Communists also proposed a four-man "neutral" commission for Indochina but for its membership proposed Poland, Czechoslovakia, India and Pakistan.

The Western plan would be a counter-offer. Another of the day's important developments was disclosure that only "minor wrinkles" remain before official announcement is made of French approval of a plan to let American officers train five new Viet Nam divisions.

Vincennes Youth Kills Self with 'Empty' Pistol

VINCENNES, Ind. (AP)—An "empty" pistol claimed the life of Eddie Vernon Taylor, 17, Vincennes, who authorities said apparently shot himself Sunday while "showing off" in front of girl friends.

Police said Taylor and three companions had been target shooting in the country and were sitting in a car when the fatal bullet was fired.

The companions, Donald Gaines, 18, Vincennes, and Mary and Doris Boberg, Freelandville, told authorities Taylor fired what he believed was the last bullet in the .22-caliber revolver, then pointed the gun at his head and fired again.

Coroner William Keezer said he would withhold his verdict in the death pending further investigation.

Mrs. Etta Simpson Of Equality Dies

The body is now at the A. K. Moore funeral home in Equality and no plans have been made.

Pastors' Conference Precedes Opening of Baptist Convention

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An Amarillo, Tex., preacher, Dr. Carl E. Bates, told the annual Southern Baptist pastors' conference today the "underprivileged and disinherited masses" are on the march to a new status.

Bates said communism has "seized upon this turbulence while we've been sound asleep" and "turned its force into their own windmills."

The pastors conference was held here in advance of the annual session of the Southern Baptist convention which opens Wednesday. Officials expected about 25,000 persons to attend the convention.

Ninety per cent of the cabbage seed in the United States is produced by Washington state.

Sen. Knowland Reveals Blueprint For Red Conquest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland has disclosed what purports to be a Communist blueprint for the conquest of the world by 1973.

Knowland inserted into the Congressional Record a document which he said was sent to Moscow by Chinese Communist dictator Mao Tse Tung. Knowland did not say where he obtained it.

The blueprint calls for the conquest of Asia by 1960 and domination of Africa by 1965.

"With Asia and Africa disconnected with the capitalist countries in Europe, there will be a total economic collapse in Western Europe," the memorandum says. "There, capitulation will be a matter of course."

The blueprint states that "the United States must be isolated by all possible means" and World War III must be avoided.

It says "crushing economic collapse and industrial breakdown will follow the European crisis. Canada and South America will find themselves in the same hopeless and defenseless condition" as the United States.

"Twenty years from now," the Communist memorandum says, "world revolution will be an accomplished fact."

Some regions in the Olympic Peninsula, northwestern Washington, have forests so thick that the sun never reaches the ground.

nexed to a consolidated, community or township high school district with grades 9-12, then the grade school district remains a separate "underlying" body.

All annexations are subject to administrative review by the courts. Another provision of the school code provides that two-thirds of the petitioners in any section of any school district can always petition for detachment from the annexing district and attachment to another district.

Reports to the state superintendent by the 43 county superintendents who listed non-high territory for the 1952-53 school year showed the non-high territory had unexpended balances of almost two million dollars.

Under a ruling of the attorney general, any balances left by non-high territory will be absorbed by the annexing districts.

But any debts owed by the non-high territory are not assumed by the annexing district. Both balances and debts of the grade school annexed are assumed by the annexing district, however.

The school problems commission declared that non-high territory must be eliminated because many non-high districts were in debt or were not paying a fair share of education costs.

Robert W. Deffenbaugh, assistant legal counsel to State Superintendent of Public Instruction Vernon L. Nickell, aided the School Problems Commission in drawing up the law. He said it was not framed to favor any type of school district.

But Deffenbaugh agreed one provision of the measure might tend to influence trustees to annex the non-high territory to 1-12 grade community unit districts rather than 9-12 grade high school districts.

The law required that all non-high territory be eliminated in 1953 except that in which the majority of high school students attended adjoining community unit or special city charter districts.

Thus, the board would be contradicting its judgment of last year if it now decided the majority of students in remaining non-high territory did not attend community unit districts.

The exception covering special city charter districts was made so these districts would have time to amend their charters to admit non-high territory.

Debts Not Assumed
If the non-high territory is annexed to a community unit district, the law requires that grade schools in the non-high territory also be made part of the community unit district.

If the non-high territory is an-

Seek 301 at Mid-Week Services at First Baptist Church

The First Baptist church of Harrisburg is seeking 301 persons at its regular mid-week service tomorrow night.

The reason: The new pastor, the Rev. R. J. Morman, is being visited by his brother, the Rev. James O. Morman, Baptist minister at Port Arthur, Texas. The visiting pastor has around 300 at his mid-week services and his brother here would like to beat the round figure by at least one.

Scientists Reveal Star Explosion In Outer Space

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—An explosion in outer space, which shattered a star with such cataclysmic force as to make the H-bomb seem like a firecracker in comparison, has been disclosed by scientists.

The California Institute of Technology said discovery of the gigantic stellar explosion, which occurred 20,000,000 years ago, was made by Paul Wild, 29-year-old Swiss astrophysics research assistant.

The light from the explosion only recently reached the earth and Wild detected it on photographic film taken with the 12-inch telescope at the Mt. Palomar Observatory south of here.

The star explosion produced a supernova—an exceptionally bright body—which now is a vast, swirling galaxy of smaller stars known as NGC 5668.

The colossal explosion occurred before our primitive human ancestors had appeared on the earth and while the mastodons that dominated the world still were relatively small.

Find Body of Chicago Youth on Roof of Building

CHICAGO (AP)—The body of a 17-year-old high school graduate was found on the roof of a four-story building on the Near North Side today and police believed he had fallen from the adjacent roof of a hotel where he had gone after graduation exercises.

Berwyn police said the youth was identified as John Fogarty, 17, Cicero.

Chicago police said the boy had graduated from St. Mel's High School Monday and afterwards apparently went to the Devonshire Hotel with two other boys.

The hotel manager received a call that two boys were on a seventh floor fire escape. He went there and escorted them away.

Officer George Lunt said he believed the Fogarty boy may have gone to the roof of the hotel, dropped the one story from the Devonshire to the neighboring Berkshire, then walked off the edge of the Berkshire roof in the darkness.

Dies at Creal Springs

Mrs. Sarah Belle Meredith, 86, died Sunday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Marshall Stockton, in Creal Springs.

The body is now at the Robertson funeral home in Vienna where it will remain until funeral time which is Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Rock Springs church. Elder T. J. Henson will officiate, and burial will be in the Kerley cemetery.

It took a day and a half to cover the distance from New York City to Philadelphia by stagecoach.

Doc Heilig Wins Two Events in Stock Car Races

Stock car racing at the Saline County Speedway made a good comeback last Saturday night when seventeen drivers made their appearance and entered cars in the various events. This was an increase of seven cars over the previous week and made for a good evening of racing.

The fans received many a thrill as the cars went 'round and 'round, skidding on the turns that were especially tricky as a result of the Friday night rains.

Doc Heilig, Harrisburg driver who has been a favorite in other years on the local track, made his first appearance of the 1954 season and didn't disappoint his fans. He won two events and placed in two others.

In a special 6-lap race with the owners and mechanics driving, Bob Bryant brought the 702 home in front.

Results of the events: Time trials—Eddie Hancock in the K7; Doc Heilig in the H3 and Henry Hancock in the 66. Winning time, 19:31.

First heat—Henry Hancock in the 66; Sam Brinkley in the HB5 and Jerry Brinkley in the P38.

Second heat—Tom Storey of Enfield in the 13 Jr.; Floyd Barnes in the 805 and Rodney Myers in the Marty 1.

Tag race—Doc Heilig in the H3; Leonard Grisham of Eldorado in the 7B and Eddie Hancock in the K7.

Third heat—Doc Heilig in the H3; Leonard Grisham in the 7B and Glen Gibbs in the 97.

Fourth heat—Bob Cletcher in the 702; Dwight Mark of Fairfield in the 13 and Eddie Hancock in the K7.

Semi-feature—Jerry Brinkley in the P38; Tom Storey in the 13 Jr. and Glen Gibbs in the 97.

Feature—Leonard Grisham in the 7B; Eddie Hancock in the K7 and Doc Heilig in the H3.

INTRODUCING "JIM BO"

JIM BO—the most sensational invention in the history of fishing—the artificial minnow that swims. No more live bait to buy. This is the lure sensation of the 20th century.

IT SWIMS—no springs, uses no fuel; it swims as long as you leave it in the water. Swims by unique action of balance and gravity. Fish any desired depth—in lake, stream, gulf, bay. Any fish that will strike a minnow will strike JIM BO. This is no gadget. Looks and swims like a live minnow.

This is the lure of all lures—beautiful silver leaf plastic. Buy one for your friends also. Satisfaction guaranteed. Send $1.00 only for each lure. Send check or cash. We pay postage.

Resume Play In Illinois Prep Baseball Tourney

By United Press

The on-again off-again Illinois prep baseball tournament resumes today with two more first-round games—weather permitting.

New Trier of Winnetka and Thornton Fractional were scheduled to clash in one game on the University of Chicago diamond.

At Springfield, Belleville takes on Peoria Manual in the other contest, slated to wrap up the first round of the tournament.

All four first round games originally were slated for last Thursday, with the semi-finals and final game Friday. But rain interfered and only two openers were played, with Litchfield and Chicago Bowen the survivors.

Should all go according to schedule this week, the semi-final games will be played Friday at Woodruff Field, Peoria, with the championship tilt that night.

One sixth of the U. S. national total of Indians live on reservations in Arizona.

Red Sox Only Team to Win Doubleheader in Memorial Day Games; Cards Lose, 14-4

By CARL LUNDQUIST

United Press Sports Writer

Lou Boudreau, who never gave up on his Boston Babes even when they were stuck in last place, was in a position to make good today on his prediction that "we'll finish in the first division and we may even make a battle for the pennant."

The Baby Sox were the only team to sweep a double-header Monday, moving to sixth place with 20-10 and 9-0 victories over the Athletics on a fine parlay of heavy hitting and top flight pitching.

The hitting prevailed in both triumphs but Bill Henry took care of the second game solely on his steady seven-hit hurling for his third triumph. In the opener, Frank Bolling hit two homers and batted in five runs and Ted Williams hit a three-run homer.

My Piersall hit two triples and two singles as Boston poured it on with rallies good for three, four, seven, and five runs.

Harry Agganis, the only starter who failed to hit safely in the opener, took charge in the second game, doubling home three runs in the first inning and hitting a homer in the sixth. Piersall also hit a second game homer.

After five straight beatings by Chicago, the Indians finally topped the White Sox, 6-3, but their 14 game winning streak at home was ended when Chicago took the opener, 6-4, on Minnie Minoso's two-run homer in the eighth. Bob Keegan pitched a steady nine hitter for his seventh triumph in the opener. Ferris Fain also hit a Chicago homer and Bobby Avila got one for Cleveland. The Indians touched off a three run winning rally in the eighth inning of the second game with a homer by Jim Hegan. The split left them a game in front of Chicago in the American League race.

Cubs Beat Cardinals

The Yankees failed to improve their third place position, 3½ games out of the lead, when they split with Washington, winning 7-6 in 10 innings after losing the opener, on a three-hitter by older Johnny Schmitz. Detroit topped Baltimore 7-5 then lost 4-2. In the National League, Brooklyn took over second place alone with a 12th inning, 3-4 victory over the Phils in a single game on Gil Hodges' homer. The Giants beat Pittsburgh 4-0 on a three hitter by Ruben Gomez, then lost 4-3. The Cubs made 14 hits, six of them homers in a seven-inning 14-4 rain-shortened victory over the Cardinals and the second game was washed out. The Cincinnati at Milwaukee double-header was rained out in the third inning of the first game with the Reds in front, 3-0.

Hank Sauer increased his major league homer lead to 16 with two while Randy Jackson, Ernie Banks, Bill Serena, and winning pitcher Paul Minner also homered in the Cub hitfest. Nine of their 14 hits were for extra bases. Ray Jablonski homered for St. Louis.

Monday's Star: Gil Hodges, who hit his 13th homer of the season in the 12th inning to give Brooklyn a 5-4 victory over the Phils.

Merchants Split Two Games Over The Week End

The Harrisburg Merchants downed the strong Herrin VFW team Sunday afternoon, 3 to 1, and then dropped a 5 to 3 contest to the Cambria Merchants Memorial Day at the town park diamond.

Bill McNew was the winning hurler for the Merchants in the game against Herrin although being tagged for ten hits over the route. McNew was rough in the clutches and held the hard hitting visitors at bay with runners on the bases. The locals could tap Williams, the Herrin hurler, for only four safeties but made up for lack of hitting by smart base running when they did get on base.

McNew received some fine support afield from his teammates which helped him over some of the rougher spots, after some errant outfield work had given the visitors a couple or three gift hits.

Bob Williams with two hits and a run-scoring fly ball paced the winners at bat. Dick Odle and Jim Parton garnered the other safeties.

Play Nash Ramblers Sunday

Dick Romanosky handled the mask and glove for the locals while Adesberger did the same for the visitors.

In yesterday's game, the Merchants found themselves without the services of five regulars and went down to defeat although out-hitting their opponents 8 to 7.

"Buzz" Kennedy was on the hill for the locals until the ninth and he held the Cambria team pretty well in check but errors afield hurt his cause as Cambria scored three with the help of errors. Gene Trammel tossed the final stanza for the losers. Strang, a young curve ball artist, was on the hill from Cambria and he kept the locals from hitting in the pinches although they loaded the sacks several times during the game.

Harold Gulley led the Merchants at bat with a home run and single in five tries with Wade Stallons, Frank Logsdon, Jim Hay, Dick Romanosky, Jim Parton, and Glen Ewell picking up a safety each.

Again Dick Romanosky was behind the plate all the way for the Merchants with T. Jones doing the receiving all the way for the visitors.

Sunday the locals will play the Nash Ramblers in the second part of a twin bill with the Ramblers being the host team.

When Bryan stopped 20 laps later, Vukovich jumped into the lead and held it. With 10 laps to go he was ahead by 70 seconds and had clear sailing.

Eighteen cars were running at the finish and 10 of them completed the run. The others were flagged.

Ruttman and relief driver Duane Carter finished fourth, and Mike Nazaruk fifth. The second five, in order, were Fred Agabashian, Don Freeland, Paul Russo, and relief pilot Jerry Hoyt, rookie Larry Crockett and one-legged Cal Niday.

Vukovich and Bryan went the distance with only two pit stops, McGrath took three.

Several accidents marked the race, none serious. Daywalt lost control after 111 laps, hit the northwest wall and locked wheels with a car driven by relief driver Pat Flaherty.

Bill Vukovich Wins Memorial Day Classic with Record 130.840 MPH

Second Straight Victory Will Net Driver $90,000

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Auto racing had a spot in its hall of fame today for Bullet Bill Vukovich whose record-shattering triumph in the 500-mile Speedway grind will net him about $90,000 from a giant $250,000 jackpot.

The slim, 35-year-old Fresno, Calif., pilot Monday became only the third winner in the classic's 38-race history to bag the tough race two years running, and he did it the hard way.

Starting from the inside spot in the seventh row, or 19th position in the 33-car field, "Wild Bill" methodically worked his way up front.

Twice he gained the lead only to surrender it again in the last 51 laps of the 200-lap chase before a holiday crowd of about 150,000.

Leads for 91 Laps

In all, he led for 91 laps and picked up $13,650 in lap money alone. His elapsed time was 3 hours, 49 minutes and 17.27 seconds. His average speed of 130.840 miles per hour shattered Troy Ruttman's 1952 mark of 128.922.

Vukovich, who was robbed of "500" honors two years ago when he hit the wall only eight laps short of victory, said afterwards, "I guess we were lucky." He added hastily, he has no designs on quitting.

"I guess I'll try for a couple more," he smiled.

Only Speedway President Wilbur Shaw and Mauri Rose previously won this race two consecutive years.

Records were set for the entire distance from 10 miles on, with Jimmy Bryan and Jack McGrath, who finished second and third, and Jimmy Daywalt, Sam Hanks and Art Cross also sharing in the glory.

McGrath, the pole winner and qualification record-holder, paced the fastest field in history for the first 44 laps, then fell back because of magneto trouble.

Hits 130 MPH

After a slow start, McGrath reeled off many laps at speeds of around 140 miles per hour with Bryan right at his tail. The pace slowed markedly once McGrath lost the lead to Daywalt. Hanks, Bryan, Vukovich and McGrath alternately regained the lead for a short time.

Vukovich took over again at 91 laps and held the lead until he stopped for the second time after 129 laps.

When Bryan stopped 20 laps later, Vukovich jumped into the lead and held it. With 10 laps to go he was ahead by 70 seconds and had clear sailing.

Eighteen cars were running at the finish and 10 of them completed the run. The others were flagged.

XVIII
The riot in Elaine's blood stream answered the lively rhythm of Marion Erickson's nimble fingers, pounding out "Turkey in the Straw." Yet all energy had ebbed out of her, leaving her muscles shriveled up and powerless. "Hey, get going," someone whispered. Elaine felt her nostrils distend at the impatient, unmistakable command in the youthful voice. Irritation impelled a little vitality to her limbs and she moved out into the center of the stage. Marion winked and bobbed her head, the signal for Elaine to start dancing. Instantaneously, as though a magician had thrown a giant cape over it, the maze of faces disappeared. An inspired vitality shot into her. She was alone. She was happy. She had started to dance. She began to jig, faster and faster, until she feared the music couldn't keep up with her feet. Her short red skirt whipped around her knees like a scarf in the breeze and she laughed as, for no reason at all, she suddenly leaped to one end of the stage and let her fluttering feet carry her across its full length. At last, in complete exhaustion, she stopped abruptly and collapsed on the piano bench beside Marion.

"That was wonderful! Wonderful!" Marion whispered. Reality came back for its revenge with her words. The applause hammered against her temples like a pneumatic drill. There was Elaine's mother-in-law in the front seat, the edges of her lips forced upwards, her thin hands banging together in a semblance of clapping, her black eyes black with shock. Elaine expected the shock would change to reproach. She looked away. Misery snaked through her, leaving its leaden weight behind. She felt inept and clumsy. Only the delight and wonderment and friendliness on Marion's flushed face kept her from running away. But she couldn't desert her friend in her moment of triumph. Strange, how many people she must know in the audience. Old classmates and townspeople she had known all her life. Yet Marion, whom she had met only a few weeks ago, and a few others, were the only ones she counted as real friends. Many old acquaintances hadn't even come to her new home to wish her well. Perhaps they sensed as intuitively as she did that it really wasn't her home. Perhaps fear of a cool reception from Mrs. Dahlstrom kept them away.

All the rhythm had gone from her body. But she willed her feet to skip through the motions of a short encore. Not even Marion seemed to notice that rhythm eluded her. At last they let her go. Backstage again, she tried to respond graciously to the breathless congratulations of the students clustered around her. In the cheap mirror someone had donated to the high school theatrical enterprise, her blacked face seemed to increase the depth of her eye sockets and her gray eyes stared back at her, pale and haunted. Even when she cleansed her face, the haunted look remained, increasing her own deep-rooted fear. The vermilion on her lips seemed to emphasize the paleness that had transferred itself to her cheeks. She closed her eyes against her spookily reflection and silently prayed for the strength to change from her scanty costume and go out to face Tom and her mother-in-law. Only a few stragglers remained in the auditorium when she edged around the corner of the stage. Tom broke away from a small group of people lingering near the door and came to her, his firm steps echoing boldly in the nearly empty room. Grasping her hand, he grinned at her, "You were quite a hit, sweetheart!" The surprise and elation in his voice drowned some of her fear. Elaine, somewhat relaxed, let him lead her down the aisle to the only other person in the place she was aware of—Mrs. Dahlstrom. As Elaine approached her mother-in-law, the same terror that had clutched her the day Tom brought her home, rushed back.

Astrid, gorgeous in a maroon boucle that caressed her slender curves, was standing beside Mrs. Dahlstrom and in the confusion, Elaine had not seen her. For a moment, Elaine was actually glad Astrid was there. "Jerry Schmidt and Astrid have invited you and Tom to have a snack with them," Mrs. Dahlstrom said to Elaine. "Hello, Jerry. Hello, Astrid. And thank you," Elaine managed to say, although she realized now she had nothing to thank Astrid for. Her presence had merely postponed the showdown between Tom's mother and herself. The longer Mrs. Dahlstrom had to brood and ponder over Elaine's unseemly behavior, the worse her anger would be. Elaine's stomach began to churn. Squelching a sigh, Elaine asked, with as much eagerness as she could muster, "Where are we going?" "Pete's Place," Astrid answered coolly. "Pete's Place?" Elaine repeated. "Is that new?" The corners of Astrid's carefully outlined lips curled. "Not exactly. It used to be Peterson's restaurant. Since they remodeled, it's not such a greasy spoon." She smiled again and added, "I hope you don't mind."

"Why should I mind?" Elaine asked evenly. "And Peterson's restaurant was never a greasy spoon. I worked there once, you know." Astrid's eyebrows raised contemptuously. (To Be Continued)

Another Bank, Union Added by John L. Lewis

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis has put another bank, a new union and a new labor alliance under his belt this spring. The 74-year-old labor giant's maneuvers, following months of inactivity, have given rise to many reports as to his ultimate aim. Lewis has chosen neither to confirm nor deny the reports. Whether the United Mine Workers chief is fattening up for new political and economic battles or merely to hold his own, only John L. or time can tell. And John L. so far won't. His formation of a new union with 9,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Assn. last week gives him at least a beachhead in the I.L.A.-AFL battle over representing some 60,000 East and Gulf Coast dockworkers. The new UMW affiliate is made up of men who work on scows, tugboats and barges—not longshoremen. Lewis has never acknowledged any plans to take over the I.L.A. But he has given the I.L.A. more than $50,000 to fight the AFL. I.L.A. President William Bradley has said he wants to affiliate with the UMW and has held some affiliation talks with Lewis.

Banking Aims

The new United Marine Workers, which includes a tugboat local formerly headed by Bradley, could be the beginning. Last week Lewis also apparently became the second largest banker in the nation's capital when the Hamilton National Bank elected as president, Barnard L. Colton, C.F. Lewis for years has been a watchdog of the UMW's multi-million dollar deposits here and president of the National Bank of Washington which is controlled by the Mine Workers. Colton also recently became a director of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad which is controlled by Lewis' old friend, financier Cyrus Eaton. Lewis won't acknowledge the deal, just as he wouldn't acknowledge control of the National in 1949. There are reports he aims to become the largest banker in Washington. Twenty years ago he couldn't raise the bank loans he needed for his union.

Three Members of Illinois Family Killed in Kentucky

SHELBYVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Three members of an Illinois family were killed and three seriously injured Monday when their car collided with a truck on U. S. 60 about 10 miles east of here. Killed were George Wagner, 63, his wife, Clara, 50, Hecker, Ill., and Mary Wagner, 60, Fairview, Ill. Wagner and his sister were dead on arrival at a Louisville hospital and Mrs. Wagner died later of internal injuries and broken arms and legs. Two sons, Charles, 26, and Melvin, 24, and Charles Wagner's wife, Teresa, 21, were injured in the accident. Kentucky state police trooper Rollie Johnson said a truck driven by Joseph A. Hobbs, Jeffersonton, Ky., turned into the path of the Wagner auto. Hobbs was not injured.
